Staff must record instrument checks in a training log before using the equipment.